PRESS RELEASE

Irasva Unveils ISSHŌ: A New Lab-Grown Diamond Collection Created with Shibani Akhtar

Mumbai, March 27, 2026 — Irasva Fine Jewellery announces the launch of ISSHŌ, a new lab-grown diamond jewellery collection developed in collaboration with Shibani Akhtar. The collection marks the brand's first dedicated exploration into lab-grown diamonds and signals a progressive step in its design evolution.

Meaning “together” in Japanese, ISSHŌ reflects the creative synergy between Irasva's Founder and Creative Director, Leshna Shah, and Shibani Akhtar. Rooted in a longstanding friendship and shared aesthetic sensibility, the collaboration moves beyond traditional celebrity partnerships to present a collection shaped by dialogue, intention, and modern perspective.

Crafted in gold and set with certified lab-grown diamonds, ISSHŌ introduces sculptural forms, refined geometry, and versatile silhouettes designed for everyday wear. The pieces are conceived to transition seamlessly from day to evening, offering a balance of restraint and presence. Clean lines, thoughtful proportions, and layering potential define the collection's contemporary character.

With ISSHŌ, Irasva positions lab-grown diamonds as a deliberate and forward-looking choice—aligned with evolving consumer values around transparency, responsibility, and accessible luxury. The collection speaks to a new generation of buyers seeking meaningful design, craftsmanship, and modern relevance.

“ISSHŌ was born from a genuine creative exchange,” says Shibani Akhtar. “We wanted to create laboratory diamond jewellery that feels effortless, confident, and reflective of today's woman—strong, individual, and self-assured.”

“This launch represents an important milestone for Irasva,” adds Leshna Shah. “ISSHŌ embodies our commitment to craftsmanship while embracing innovation. It is a natural extension of how modern diamond jewellery is evolving.”

ISSHŌ is now available at Irasva boutiques and online.
